- Groups of people, organisations or couples will not normally be eligible for Citizen of the Year and Young Citizen of the Year, though in exceptional cases the selection panels reserve the right to consider such nominations.
- Both individuals and organisations should be considered for the Community Event of the Year as this recognises the organising body or committee responsible for the event
- Absolutely NO weight is given to the number of times a person or organisation is nominated
- Previous recipients of the award categories may receive the award in the future however the work that this person or organisation made in receiving the original award may not be considered.
- Councils may choose to re-submit nominations that do not receive an award for future consideration in subsequent years of the program

Selection Criteria

In choosing the recipients of the Australia Day Citizen of the Year Awards, regard is given to the nominee's achievements in the year immediately prior to receiving the award, as well as their past achievements and ongoing contribution to the community.

An individual need only be nominated once to be considered. The number of nominations received per nominee bears no weight in their selection. Individuals cannot self-nominate.

Selection Criteria

PLEASE NOTE it is not a requirement that the individual resides within the Light Regional Council. The focus should be on their SPECIFIC contribution to the Light Regional Council area (e.g. an individual may live in a neighbouring council but has made a significant contribution to a community organisation within the respective council)

Citizen of the Year and Young Citizen of the Year Awards

In choosing the recipients of the Australia Day Citizen and Young Citizen of the Year Awards, regard is given to the nominee's achievements in the year immediately prior to receiving the award, as well as their past achievements and ongoing contribution to the community.

Recipients will have demonstrated outstanding contribution and community services in areas such as: education, health, fundraising, charitable and voluntary services, business, environment or any other area that contributes to the advancement and well-being of the community.

The selection criteria for Citizen of the Year and Young Citizen of the Year are:

- Significant contribution to the community
- An inspirational role model for the Australian community

The scope of impact the individual's contribution has on the local government area

Selection panels will also give consideration to the following in assessing and comparing nominations against the above criteria:

- Personal, academic and professional achievements
- Contribution in the relevant field (how has the nominee or event 'put back' into their field to benefit others)
- Demonstrated leadership, innovation and creativity
- Contribution to development of regional community and/or economy
- Future goals and likely impact
- Degree of difficulty of the achievement and sacrifices made
- Previous awards and recognition
- Voluntary work beyond paid employment
- Nature and length of activity or service
- Achievements as an individual or as part of a group or organisation
- Availability and commitment to promote community pride and active citizenship throughout the year of the recipient's appointment

Community Event of the Year Award

The selection criteria for Community Event of the Year are;

- The quality of the event
- The scope of impact the event has on the Light region
- The event's contribution to the community

Community Project of the Year Award

The selection criteria for Community Project of the Year are;

- The quality of the project
- The scope of impact the project has on the Light region
- The project's contribution to the community

Who can be nominated?

Citizen of the Year Award: to be eligible, the person must be an Australian citizen.

Young Citizen of the Year Award: to be eligible, the person must be an Australian citizen aged at least 16 years but under 30 years of age on January 26 in the year of the award presentation.

Community Event of the Year Award: this is presented to the person/group who has staged the most outstanding community event during the past year.

Community Project of the Year Award: this is presented to the person/group who has completed the most outstanding community project during the past year.

How are the nominations assessed?

Nominations will be considered by the Elected Body of Council and voted on by secret ballot at the December meeting of Council. The decision of Council will be final and no correspondence will be entered into.

In considering nominations, the Council seeks to satisfy itself that the person or group concerned has met the criteria. The judging of the nominees will be based on the information provided in and attached to the nomination form.
